Get help with regulatory compliance

The GDPR sets new standards for privacy and personal data.

In May 2018, a new European Union (EU) privacy regulation goes into effect with broad reaching implications for organizations around the world. The regulation, called the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), introduces new requirements on privacy, security, and compliance for organizations that offer goods and services to European Union (EU) residents.

- ✓ Enhanced personal privacy rights
- ✓ Increased duty for protecting data
- ✓ Mandatory breach reporting
- ✓ Significant penalties for non-compliance

GDPR: Not just Europe.

The GDPR applies more broadly than many people think. The law imposes new rules on companies, government agencies, non-profits, and other organizations that offer goods and services to people in EU or that collect and analyze data tied to EU residents — no matter where they are in the world.

GDPR is applicable to organizations of all sizes and all industries.

Steps to get started with GDPR compliance.

As a Microsoft partner, we can help!

GDPR enforcement begins May 25, 2018. Is your organization ready?

An ideal starting point is a detailed assessment of your GDPR readiness. In our Office 365 GDPR Readiness Assessment, we'll work with you to evaluate your organization's privacy posture, uncover risks, provide expert guidance around the GDPR, and offer recommendations specific to your organization.

Key changes required by the GDPR.

Personal privacy

Individuals have the right to:

- Access their personal data
- Correct errors in their personal data
- Erase their personal data
- Object to processing of their personal data
- Export personal data

Controls & Notifications

Organizations will need to:
